At Paleis Het Loo we offer you a glass of wine suitable to the moment, using a variety of different wines.

The story of the ballroom

At one time, the horses of Stadtholder Willem III stood here. In the time of Queen Wilhelmina, this was a cinema. In 1984, Paleis Het Loo became a museum and this room was used as the restaurant. The wooden wall paneling and the chandeliers come from Queen Wilhelmina's great dining room. The restaurant was renovated in 2022. The wooden floor is made from the 17th-century oaks that stood in front of the palace.
